

League of Women Voters Hosts Drinks & Dialogue with Rural Utah Project

On Wednesday, April 7th from 5:30 to 7:00 pm the Chaffee County League of Women Voters will host a Zoom Drinks and Dialogue with Ali Vallarta, Rural Utah Project Development Director

The Rural Utah Project is setting out to change political outcomes and shift narratives across Utah's red rock areas. Through creative tactics and new technologies, they are working in partnership with the Navajo Nation to assign GPS based street addresses that will ensure correct precinct assignment for voting and increase access to emergency services on the Navajo reservation.

To register and obtain a link to the Zoom meeting visit lwwchaffeecounty.org