Join the Central Colorado Conservancy for a fabulous fall evening celebrating our work stewarding the Central Colorado we all love!

Nathrop, Colo. – The 2024 Stewardship Gala benefiting Central Colorado Conservancy (Conservancy) will be on Wednesday, September 11, at the Mt. Princeton Hot Springs Pavilion from 5:30 until 8:30 pm. Tickets to the Gala include a champagne reception, delicious dinner, beer and wine, and opportunities to support the Conservancy's work by bidding on an awesome line up auction items and participating in the dessert dash. The evening will also include a live program including the presentation of the 2024 Conservation Award.

Central Colorado Conservancy works to protect the lands, waters, and quality of life in Central Colorado as our communities face pressure and rapid growth. Through land easements, restoration efforts and connecting our communities to conservation, the Conservancy is leading the charge to protect the region's rural way of life and preserve the lands and waters that sustain us.

You won't want to miss the Conservancy's largest fundraiser of the year and celebration of their work stewarding Central Colorado's remarkable open space, wildlife habitat and water resources! Early bird tickets are $75 until August 24th and can be purchased online by going to <https://www.centralcoloradoconservancy.org/gala>.
